VICTOR HUGO'S NEW NOVEL, "NINETY-TWO," Translated by FRANK LEE BENEDICT and J. HAIN FRISWELL.

"The wonderful and tempestuous genius of M. Victor Hugo has again found scope in a theme perhaps more suited to it than any on which it has been exercised since the masterpiece of 'Les Misérables'."

"The pen of this graphic and poetic writer, who charmed an older generation, was never more ably or more eloquently employed than in this latest and ripest manifestation of his genius."—Daily News.

ONE ONLY. 2 vols. crown 8vo, cloth extra, 21s.

"Who loved one only and who clare to her."

"This is a story such as we do not often meet with, full of true power and charm... The story is marked throughout by a thoroughly artistic finish and completeness, every character in it of the most importance standing out sharply defined and alive. And some of E. C. F.'s descriptive touches are perfect... We have read 'One Only' with deep and genuine interest and pleasure, and congratulate the author on a work which rises far above the ordinary level of even good novels."

"Chained and charmed us so that we read both volumes at a sitting."

Under SEAL of CONFESSION. By

AYERIL BEAUMONT, Author of "Thornicroft's Model."

3 vols. crown 8vo, cloth, 31s. 6d.

"But we are not going to describe the plot fully, because everybody who reads novels regularly (and not such persons only) should read 'Under Seal of Confession.' It is a very good book indeed."

Academy.

NEW NOVEL BY THE GREAT GERMAN AUTHOR,

BERTHOLD AUERBACH.

WALDFRIED. Translated from the German.

3 vols. crown 8vo, 31s. 6d.

"Charming glimpses of German domestic life, episodes of love, joy, and sorrow, and quite an army of dramatic personae, all drawn with the same quiet and scrupulous care and finish, and the same gentle humour which characterise all Herr Auerbach's other novels.... 'Waldfried' is a book which should have as great an attraction for English as for German readers. It has been well translated."

Spectator.

"B," an AUTOBIOGRAPHY. By E. DYNE

FENTON, Author of "Sortes from 'Gib' in quest of Sensation and Sentiment," "Eve's Daughters," &c. 3 vols. crown 8vo, 31s. 6d.

"B" is a very clever and amusing novel.... Likely to be a popular favourite."—John Bull.

"There is unmistakable power in this book.... originality and vigour."—Fanny Fair.

"This is an exceptionally good novel.... singularly entertaining, and even brilliant."—Graphic.

ARGUS FAIRBAIRN. By HENRY JACKSON,

Author of "Heath-Ghosts," &c. 3 vols. crown 8vo, cloth, 31s. 6d.

"It is well told, in good English, and the high moral tone of the novel will, no doubt, commend it to a large circle of readers."

Daily News.

"One of the best novels we have seen for some time. It is the work of a thoughtful and cultivated man, and if not without flaw, has so many more beauties than imperfections, that we accept it and are grateful."—Saturday Review.

Crown 8vo, cloth extra, price 3s. 6d.

THE MAID OF FLORENCE; or, a Woman's Vengeance. A Tragedy. In Five Acts. With an Historical Preface.

"This drama gives us an impressive picture of the social and political condition of Italy during the close of the thirteenth century."

Evening Standard.
"The work displays no small vivacity and constructive power."—Literary World.

NEW NOVEL BY JEANIE HERING.

This day, at all Libraries, Three Volumes, crown 8vo.

THROUGH THE MIST. By JEANIE HERING,
Author of "Truth will Out," "Golden Days," "Garry," &c.

"The two young heroines of the novel, Dulcie and Ruby, are a charming pair of twin sisters. We have seldom met with more charming girls than these two sisters. They are just what country girls of the best kind are in that happy period of life when girlhood and womanhood are meeting. The breezy scene of freedom, the constant presence of the heather and the sea, the burn-side and the bleak hill path, supplies a large amount of local colour, and helps greatly in the life-like truthfulness of the book. The two old aunties are well-drawn portraits. Through the Mist is a readable, pleasant book. It aims at nothing great, but accomplishes something very fresh and tender."—Saturday Review.

"Miss Hering has produced a very readable novel, and one that contains much clever writing. Dulcie of the characters are depicted with much force and humour. Dulcie Duncan herself, and the two Miss McManes, are especially fine creations."—Scotsman.

SUPERNATURAL RELIGION; an Inquiry into the Reality of Divine Revelation. The Second Edition, thoroughly revised, with Additions.

"The writer of 'Supernatural Religion' has conferred a boon on all students of theology. Calm and judicious in tone, fully acquainted with the facts of the case, and scrupulously exact in stating the arguments of adversaries, no more formidable assailant of orthodox could well be imagined. Whenever the history of Christian theology in the nineteenth century shall be written, a place of honour will belong to the anonymous Author of 'Supernatural Religion.'"—Westminster Review.

Mr. West's shilling manual has now reached a twelfth edition, and its general acceptance by teachers is the best proof of its excellence. We know of no better work of the class. The information given is concise and clearly put, and must greatly facilitate the progress of the youthful student. Mr. Sutton's work is intended for more advanced students, and forms an admirable supplement to Mr. West's. In the 'Pupil's Daily Exercise' the scales and exercises are arranged on a plan admirably adapted for the object the compiler had in view—the requirements of those scholastic establishments in which the time devoted to study is necessarily limited. Each exercise is accompanied by clear directions, which render the work especially valuable for self-instruction. —Vide Education Gazette.

IMPORTANT CORRESPONDENCE.

The REV. SIR EDWARD R. JODRELL, Bart.

To Messrs. FELTOE & SONS,

26 Conduit Street, Regent Street, W.

When at Sall I received an Analytical Report of your "Specialité" Sherry, and you must forgive me for saying that at first I regarded the whole matter as a most egregious piece of humbug. Having, however, tasted the Wine in question, and found it most agreeable to the palate, I determined, on my own responsibility, to have it analysed for myself, having fully also determined previously to expose any hoax pro bono publico, or to give you the benefit of the analysis, should it turn out in your favour. I have the pleasure to forward you Professor Redwood's (of the Pharmaceutical Society of Great Britain) Analysis, which says more than I can express. I am very particular as to the Wine I drink, and as I have been hitherto buying "every-day Sherry" at 60s. a dozen, I am rejoiced to find now that I can purchase Wine of equal strength and superior bouquet at half that price. This should be known to the "General Public," and you can make any use you deem proper of this letter, and also of Professor Redwood's most elaborate analysis.

Yours faithfully,

EDWARD REPPS JODRELL.

21 Portland Place, London: December 9, 1873.

(Signed)

The Rev. Sir E. R. JODRELL.

SIR,—I have completed the Analysis of the sample of Sherry you left with me, and proceed to report the results. Judged by the palate, it might be represented as a light, moderately dry Wine, with nothing to object to in its flavour or apparent strength. It is slightly acid to test-paper, and has a specific gravity of 986.8. These characters correspond with those of a sample of reputed good Montilla Sherry, the specific gravity of which was found to be 986.6, and the acidity almost identical with that of your sample.

I proceeded to make a more minute analysis, the results of which were as follows:—

Absolute alcohol, by volume	20.0 parts in 100
Free or unneutralized acid, partly volatile and partly non-volatile	0.54 "
Volatile acid (acetic acid)	0.1 "
Sugar and extract	2.5 "
Ash, from incineration of extract	0.45 "
MINERAL ACID, or inorganic matter, NOT YIELDED BY GRAPE JUICE	NONE.

THESE RESULTS ARE ALL SATISFACTORY. The proportion of alcohol is that found in the best samples of Sherry, the volatile acid (acetic acid) is not more than is usually present, and the fixed acid is the TRUE ACID OF THE GRAPE, namely tartaric acid. The ash is not more than it should be, and contains nothing foreign to the grape.

In preparing this Analysis, I have been enabled to observe that the alcohol, when separated from the other constituents of the Wine, was PURE IN FLAVOUR AND OF GOOD QUALITY, and that there was NOTHING OBJECTIONABLE in the extract or other products that were separated in the process of analyzation.

I am, yours truly,

(Signed)

T. REDWOOD, Professor of Chemistry to the

"SPECIALITÉ" SHERRY.

"This wine has now maintained its reputation more than three years.
